

Short Bio

Mrs. Isabelle Langlois-Loris

Isabelle has a master's in commercial engineering from the Solvay School of Economics and Management at the Université libre de Bruxelles (1990), and an MBA from INSEAD in Fontainebleau (1993).

She is a partner with Egon Zehnder. Based in Brussels, she advises clients in all talent matters, including executive and board searches, management appraisals, and leadership consulting.

Prior to joining Egon Zehnder, Isabelle was an Engagement Manager with McKinsey & Company, based in Brussels. Her projects included strategic consulting, business process reengineering, and integration work.

Earlier, Isabelle was a Consultant with Mercer Management Consulting in Paris, where she worked primarily with banking and energy clients.

Isabelle has been for many years an active member of the Solvay Schools Alumni association, which she is now chairing. Outside of work, Isabelle enjoys spending time with her family (four children) and with her friends.
